ABOUT US

The Powell family name has been synonymous with the stone masonry industry for over three generations with an extensive portfolio of successful specialist projects across the United Kingdom spanning as far back as 1953

Drawing from the experience gained within the family business Craig Powell set up Powell Masonry Ltd in 1996. Since then Powell Masonry has developed into a highly successful contracting organisation associated with many prestigious works, ranging from the restoration of cathedrals and churches, design and installation of natural stone facades and fitting out of natural stone floors, steps and complex bespoke stonework items

Powell Masonry offers a complete service including the design, manufacture and installation of all natural stone, quartz and large format porcelain panels. With in-house design capability, expert advice on the selection of the most suitable materials and systems for a project can be provided which is fully supported with the use of CAD optimisation.

With a dedicated factory which includes amongst other manufacturing facilities a five axis CNC saw, Powell Masonry have the capability to produce highly complex designs in natural stone, quartz, sandstone, marble, granite, slate and porcelain along with modern composite materials such as silestone and dekton.

Powell Masonry have in place a robust supply chain based upon quality and guarantees of delivery. With access to local and international vendors Powell Masonry are able to provide a robust source of the finest natural stones available anywhere across the globe.

Powell Masonry employs only the best stonemasons who are trained in traditional and modern techniques of manufacturing and installing natural stone to the very highest standard with a focus on a meticulous attention to detail to the finished works

Powell Masonry completes every project with the same high quality finish regardless of the size or complexity. This approach to quality has gained Powell Masonry an outstanding reputation with many returning clients as a testament to this dedicated approach.
